

2019 Master Recipient

Harry E. Sarles, Jr., MD, MACG

Harry E. Sarles, Jr., MD, MACG, is currently vice president for the Digestive Health Associates of Texas (DHAT) in Dallas, Texas. He is a founding member of this 90+ member practice group. He is also currently the medical director and principal investigator for the DHAT Research Institute. In addition to these duties, Dr. Sarles runs a full time GI clinical practice in Rockwall, Texas.

Throughout his career, Dr. Sarles has received numerous patient care and peer recognition awards, including the Patterson/Nelson Career Service Award from the Texas Society of Gastroenterology and Endoscopy (TSGE) and the William D. Carey Leadership Award from the American College of Gastroenterology

(ACG) Board of Governors.

Dr. Sarles has had numerous contributions at the state and national levels, having served on and chaired many committees for the TSGE and the ACG. He served as President for TSGE from 1994-1996, ACG Governor for Northern Texas from 1996-2000, Chairman of the ACG Board of Governors from 2002-2004, and President of the ACG from 2013-2014. Currently, he sits on the Board of the ACG Institute for Clinical Research and Education.

Dr. Sarles has always had an interest in practice management and continues to innovate and educate on practice management issues.