

Jessica Crimaldi, MSN, NP-C, CMSRN

Jessica Crimaldi, MSN, NP-C, CMSRN, was born and raised in the greater Cleveland area. She attended Cleveland State University (CSU) for her BSN; during her time at CSU she had the opportunity to work at The Cleveland Clinic Foundation in a 3-year internship entitled the “Nursing Experiential Program.” In this role she had the opportunity to learn many of the roles on a typical nursing unit while working 1 year as a Unit Secretary, 1 year as a Nurse Assistant and 1 year as a Nurse Intern.

She started her nursing career on an inpatient Internal Medicine and Telemetry Teaching Unit where she worked as an RN while completing her MSN at the University of Akron. Since graduation in 2015 she has worked as a Nurse Practitioner in the Department of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition caring for inpatients with gastrointestinal and liver disorders at The Cleveland Clinic Foundation.

In addition to her clinical role, she is also the Advanced Practice Provider Manager for over 70 Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition APPs. She is the Co-Director for the nation’s first Inflammatory Bowel Disease APP Fellowship which is embarking on its fourth year. She has presented nationally and published in The Journal for Nurse Practitioners (JNP). She is Faculty for Gastroenterology and Hepatology Advanced Practice Providers (GHAPP) National Organization and Milestone APP.

When she is not busy with work Jessica is a wife, parent of 2 young children and dog mom. She is a foster parent and passionate about foster care advocacy. She enjoys being outdoors, hiking and spending time with family and friends.
